Kaiken Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon 2007

This wine has an intense ruby red color with violet hues. Of great complexity on the nose showing notes of cherry and fresh red fruits. Its oak ageing provides elegant aromas, blending vanilla and coffee notes with the natural spiciness of the Cabernet Sauvignon. On the mouth feel it's a powerful wine, of subtle tannins product of unrivalled climatic conditions of Mendoza and an appropriate maturity level at harvest time. The wine has a long finish, its great fruit where its concentration mixes well with the sweet notes provided by its oak ageing.

Alkoomi Frankland River

The name ALKOOOMI is taken from local aboriginal dialect and means 'a place we chose'. The logo represents a distinctive Australian plant which grows in the area.

Blackjack Vineyards is situated on an easterly slope, in the old Apple and Pear growing district of the Harcourt Valley on the foothills of Mt.Alexander. Although just south of Bendigo, the climate is considerably cooler, with vintage typically occurring late April into early May. The Harcourt Valley is normally blessed with "Indian Summer" autumns - warm days and cool nights. The soils are mostly very old and not overly fertile granitic soils. The vineyard is hand pruned and hand harvested. The Blackjack Shiraz is from the original planting in 1988.

BlackJack Cabernet Merlot 2004

If anyone is in any doubt that Australian wine cannot compete with their 'Old World' counterparts then they should try this wine. Yes, its different from Bordeaux but that doesn't mean that its still not a great wine. This wine has tons of flavour, great balance and fantastic intensity. A real bang for your buck with dark blackcurrant fruits, fine tannins and great length of flavour.

This Australian dessert wine shows a clear, dark amber colour with a reddish hue. Delicious nutty, orange-peel and burnt-sugar aromas lead into an intensely sweet bitter-orange flavour brought into shape by tart, "grippy" acidity; sweet and complex, sipping a glass is almost like dipping into a box of chocolates.

Tuesner Wines Barossa Valley

Teusner Wines came into being late in 2001 when Kym Teusner witnessed a conversation between his girlfriend's uncle and his brother. They were discussing the viability of an old Grenache vineyard, planted in the Northern Barossa Valley by their grandfather. The low yields and low prices being paid by the 'Big Boys' meant that the vineyard was running at a loss and was facing certain destruction! Kym was loath to hear this and approached his brother in law, now business partner, to see if they could scratch together enough cash to keep these gnarled old vines in the ground. In that first year they raised enough capital for only about a quarter of the fruit from that vineyard, but this was enough for the Riebke brothers to stall their plans for these precious old vines.

			Price
Teusner Albert Shiraz	2006	75 cl	44.90	r
Teusner Avatar Shiraz Grenache Mourvedre	2006	75 cl	29.90	r
Teusner Riebke Shiraz	2008	75 cl	24.90	r
Teusner Joshua Grenache Shiraz Mourvedre	2007	75 cl	24.90	r

Teusner Joshua GSM 2007

This wine has been crafted to retain its youth and vibrancy, to demonstrate what well maintained, old vine barossa Grenache is all about. It is a wine that displays copious amounts of fresh red berry fruits and dusty tobacco leaf, without the intrusion of oak influence. A splash of mataro adds to the earthy complexity, whilst a little shiraz is used for structure and weight. The ripe tannins of the Grenache are gently supportive, without being intrusive. This is a wine designed to enjoy immediately that will cellar well for at least five years.

Albali Valpenderas

The history of Félix Solís, S.A. begins with the lifelong career of the father of the current owners, Mr Félix Solís Fernández, who in 1952 moved with his family from his home town of Villanueva de los Infantes to Valdepeñas, a city renowned for its long grape and winegrowing traditions.

In Valdepeñas, the Solís family, whose history in the wine business dates back to the end of the 19th century, bought the renowned "Casa del Huerto del Cura", where they started to produce wine. Today it is known as the "Viña Albali" winery and acts as the headquarters of Félix Solís, S.A. It has retained the original warehouses, the tinajas (huge earthenware jars), the barrels (where some of its best wines are aged), the underground cellar and even the structure of this typical ancestral home of La Mancha.

Pirineos Marbore 2003

A hugely colour intense wine with violet tones. A wine with great elegance and finesse. A good nose, well structured where red fruits, confectionery, bitumen and toasted wood combine well alongside spices such as pepper and nutmeg and hints of butter and chocolate. Full bodied and well structured from beginning to end with a surprisingly lingering finish. The wood just melts into the fruit while being all wrapped up in excellent quality tannin. Powerful without being aggressive. Continues to age well in the bottle during its long life-span.
